Cambridge Primary Mathematics is a flexible and engaging course written specifically for the Cambridge Primary mathematics curriculum framework (Stage 1-6). The course offers a discussion-led approach, with problem-solving integrated throughout to encourage learners to think and talk about mathematics, in favour of rote learning and drill practice. Practical activities form the basis for each session, and come complete with ideas for support and extension. Pair, group and class work is integrated with individual work and learners are encouraged to explain and reason their choices. The language level is carefully pitched to be accessible to EAL/ESL learners, with concepts illustrated using diagrams (where possible) to allow visual understanding and learning.

This Learner's Book for Stage 2 is a supplementary resource that consolidates and reinforces mathematical learning in an engaging, visually stimulating manner.

The Learner's Book contains:

- visual support for activities in Teacher's Resource 2, or points for discussion to develop problem-solving skills and support learning through discovery and discussion
- illustrations to explain new vocabulary and concepts, to help visual learners and those with lower literacy levels
- hints and tips, to provide support for more difficult concepts
- an engaging, learner-friendly design.

Bunny Honey by Rosemary Wells

Bunny took one note from her note to play for her bee. The bee stopped at Beehive's Egg Shop. In the window was a small box with stinging balloons. "That's beautiful," said Bunny. "Hungry" said Max. "You may like it very, very small lemonade, Max," said Bunny.

Max dear was Candy's Corner and they sold sweets that were the best. Max knew Candy's would have a set of teeth every with cherry sugar inside for her birthday. He brought them instead of the lemonade. "That's nice, please," said Candy. Max wanted to make sure the teeth worked. The teeth worked perfectly.

Bunny had to take Max to the beach. They went there every day. Max finished off a packet of butter sandwiches, two round cookies and a banana. "Delicious. Lunch was just what I needed."
